

Community and Stakeholder Engagement for Recovery Community Organizations

A Learning Collaborative

Mitzi Moody JD, MSW, LISW-S

I envision a world where knowledge inspires action and people learn, grow, and change the world! As the President and Founder of Creative Thought Consulting Group, I lead the organization in training and developing others to make a difference. Utilizing best practices and industry standards in leadership, supervision, coaching and mentoring, my team and I join with others to make the world a better place.

My training and experience in social work and law combines my passion for people and social justice. I hold a bachelor's degree in psychology from UC Davis, a master's in social work from California State University, Sacramento, and a Juris Doctor from Capital University Law School. Over the last 20 years I have advocated for youth and families in the juvenile justice and child welfare systems; worked with school districts to develop mental health and substance use prevention programming for students; and engaged with a number of communities to create and develop sustainable change. Additionally, I managed a county behavioral healthcare system for youth and its $15M budget, developed and facilitated learning collaboratives for this system, provided technical assistance to multiple provider agencies and joined with them to build and implement culturally competent, effective, and sustainable behavioral health treatment and prevention programs. As I continue on this mission to inspire others to action, I am also privileged to teach the next generation of social workers through the Ohio State University.
